Matchday Notes

David Flitcroft

Strength does not come from winning. The struggles we face in life are what develop an individual's strengths. When you go through hardships and make a conscious decision not to surrender that is strength.

As a club we showed real strength and solidarity to come back from a goal deficit against Wolves. The atmosphere that you created in the stadium was powerful and so was our play after an edgy start by us and an overpowering display from Wolves. We overcame that onslaught and turned it into a dominant performance to see out the the game.

Scott Golbourne will come back even stronger. His performances this season have been breathtaking in and out of possession. The commitment, resolve and courage he displays in every game will be the main ingredients that will help him make a speedy recovery so I can have the pleasure of picking him and you, the fans, of watching him.

After the Wolves game we evaluated the squad and felt we needed some new energy. We were allowed to recruit Ryan Tunnicliffe from Manchester

United. He is a player of outstanding potential, and for Sir Alex to trust us with assisting in his developing a player, who will play in their first team, proves that we are moving in the right direction. Ryan is an aggressive and dynamic player who uses the ball intelligently and he will prove to be a great asset in our tool bag. A massive thank you has to go to Sir Alex Ferguson and Manchester United for their assistance.

Individual responsibility is something as a person I have always embraced and enjoyed. In the battle between YOU and your opponent, if you don't stand up to that individual challenge and take on the responsibility, then you will fall short and it will stop you from making that proud phone call to your family after the game.

The run this group of players has been on has been phenomenal. Their commitment and dedication to the detail on and off the pitch has been the reason for the success we have all enjoyed watching, but the group let themselves down against Bristol by not showing that total commitment in our tasks of marking at set pieces. It is the first time since I took over the team that this has happened. I can't say it will be the last. I can assure every one that we have worked hard to rectify it on the training ground.

Our time spent together as a group in Spain was a perfect environment to integrate new players, reflect, and work on parts of our game that will improve us. Our quality of work on the training ground was very stimulating from a tactical perspective. The pool circuit session we did was probably mentally one of the hardest things I've had to do. I will never ask a player to do something that I wouldn't be prepared to do myself.

Developing the groups' mental strength is crucial as the race to stay in this league draws to a close. Tonight's challenge is against a Bolton team in good form, which gives me a chance to welcome Dougie Freedman, Lennie Lawrence, Curtis Flemming and my good friend Jimmy B. I would like to welcome Craig Davies and Craig Dawson, two players who we plucked from lower leagues and played a part in their development in their quests to get to the top.

As always thank you for your superb support and enjoy this evening's match.

LETTER TO FOUNDER CLUBS

2nd March,

Every year it is becoming more and more difficult for football clubs of any standing to meet their friendly engagements and even arrange friendly matches. The consequence is that at the last moment, through cup-tie interference, clubs are compelled to take on teams who will not attract the public.

I beg to tender the following suggestion as a means of getting over the difficulty: that ten or twelve of the most prominent clubs in England combine to arrange home-and-away fixtures each season, the said fixtures to be arranged at a friendly conference about the same time as the International Conference

This combination might be known as the Association Football Union, and could be managed by representative from each club. Of course, this is in no way to interfere with the National Association; even the suggested matches might be played under cup-tie rules. However, this is a detail.

My object in writing to you at present is merely to draw your attention to the subject, and to suggest a friendly conference to discuss the matter more fully. I would take it as a favour if you would kindly think the matter over, and make whatever suggestions you deem necessary. I am only writing to the following – Blackburn Rovers, Bolton Wanderers, Preston North End, West Bromwich Albion, and Aston Villa, and would like to hear what other clubs you would suggest.

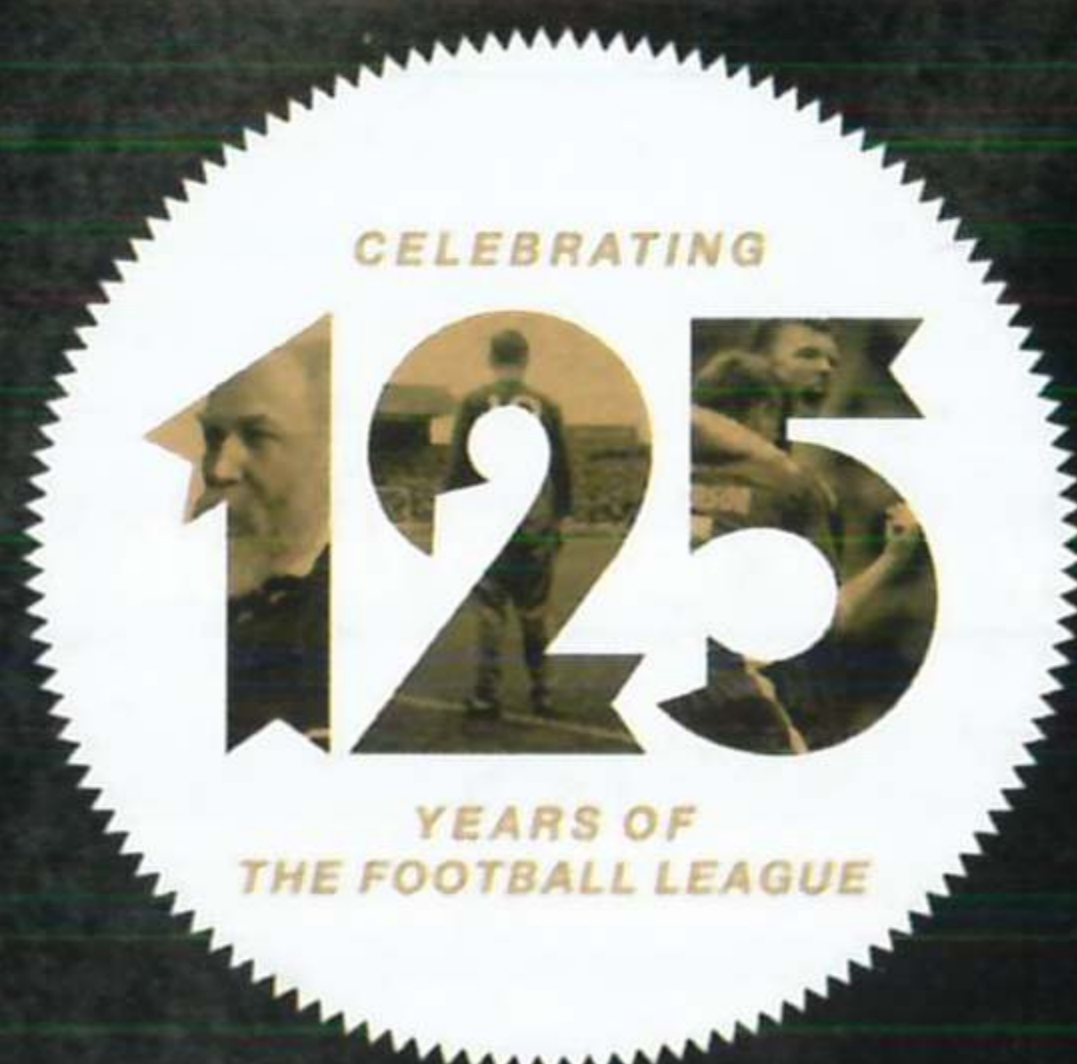

I am, yours very truly,

William McGregor
(Aston Villa F.C.)

PREVIEW

Remarkably Bolton recorded their first back to back wins of the season beating Hull City and Peterborough in the last week. Despite the inconsistency that has followed them all season Bolton still harbour play-off ambitions such is the tightness of this season's league. This was well illustrated on Tuesday when victory over Peterborough moved them five positions to 10th and just seven points off the play-off positions.

Bolton's last away win in the league was back in November when they beat their local rivals Blackburn 2-1. Their only other three points on the road was against Sheffield Wednesday in September. So far 32 points of their 45 have come at the Reebok this season.

Last time Barnsley and Bolton met was in November when Craig Davies equalised for the Reds after Kevin Davies had put the Trotters in the lead. This time round Bolton have all the Davies's in their side - Mark, Kevin and Craig, but Barnsley's rich vein of form points to a hard fought battle this afternoon.

Barnsley were dealt a big blow when Scott Golbourne was ruled out for the rest of the season after suffering a knee ligament tear in the match against MK Dons. That match also has seen a resurgent Kelvin Etuhu stopped in his tracks when he suffered a broken nose during a heavy challenge.

Bolton recently signed West Brom defender Craig Dawson on loan which has coincided with them going on a five match unbeaten run. Dawson also bagged himself two goals in their 4-1 victory over Hull City last weekend and he scored the only goal of the game against Peterborough United in midweek.

As for injury concerns Dougie Freedman will be without midfielder Keith Andrews (Achilles) and defender Matt Mills (thigh).

Experimental361.com analysis of Bolton's first 20 league games highlights they have the highest shots taken per match in the Football League. Chris Eagles will have had more than his fair share of shots with 119 attempts up to and including the Hull City game.

The figures also show that the number of points taken from a winning position away from home is the lowest in the Championship. So far they have lost the lead in a game to either draw or lose it 11 times. Even so they have also come back from behind on nine occasions to either draw or win a game. As they say it's not over until the fat lady sings so Barnsley will be making sure they play until the final whistle.

This fixture has not been played too often with just 36 meetings since 1899. November's encounter was the first time Barnsley had played Bolton in 11 years. The head to head record is one of complete symmetry with Barnsley winning 12, drawing 12 and losing 12.

The gaffer Dougjie Freedman

Dougjie Freedman was unveiled as the new Manager of Bolton Wanderers on October 25th last year, departing Championship rivals Crystal Palace.

Having risen through the ranks with Queens Park Rangers, it was with Barnet that the Glasgow-born striker hit the goal trail in his first professional season – bagging 32 goals. His goal-scoring exploits prompted Palace to pay £800,000 for the striker, and he went on to enjoy his first of two stints at Selhurst Park.

Palace were promoted to the big time alongside the Reds in the 1996/97 Division One Play-Offs. Freedman had a massive influence on their semi-final success, notching a brace in a matter of seconds as a second half substitute against Wolves. It was then ironic that a loan spell and subsequent permanent switch to Wolverhampton Wanderers came in October 1997, with another £800,000 paid out for the forward.

Newly-promoted Nottingham Forest brought Freedman to the City Ground for just 50k shy of £1million in August 1998, but two years and 23 goals later – Freedman was set to return to his former club Crystal Palace in a £600,000 transfer. The Scot was to clock up another 265 appearances in a Palace shirt, hitting the net 74 times along the way. One of the most important goals in his career and, arguably, in Palace's recent history, was the strike that kept the Eagles in Division One – a late effort against Stockport County.

In 2004 he helped Palace in their Play-Off campaign in which the Eagles beat West Ham United in the final. Freedman slotted home a spot-kick in the semi-final against Sunderland to help his team to Wembley and eventually, promotion – although Freedman was an unused substitute in the Final he, nevertheless, had another promotion medal on his CV.

Freedman's playing days came to an end after a brief loan stint with Leeds United and Southend – featuring in another play-off campaign for the former, albeit an unsuccessful one.

When Owen Coyle departed the Reebok Stadium earlier in the season, Wanderers were quick to recruit the 38-year-old – who had steered Palace to the upper reaches of the Championship by late autumn.

THE PLAYERS

Adam Bogdan | Goalkeeper

Hungarian international goalkeeper Adam Bogdan joined Bolton from Hungarian outfit Vasas in the summer of 2007. Standing at 6ft 4", Bogdan had a tough job in displacing Trotters stalwart Jussi Jaaskelainen, but managed to do so just over a year ago in the Premier League. Bogdan kept his place between the sticks and even went on to earn the club's players of the season, in a campaign that also saw him keep out a Wayne Rooney penalty at Old Trafford. The 25-year-old's form was also recognised at international level, with Bogdan becoming Hungary's number one 'keeper. His current deal keeps him at the Reebok Stadium until next summer.

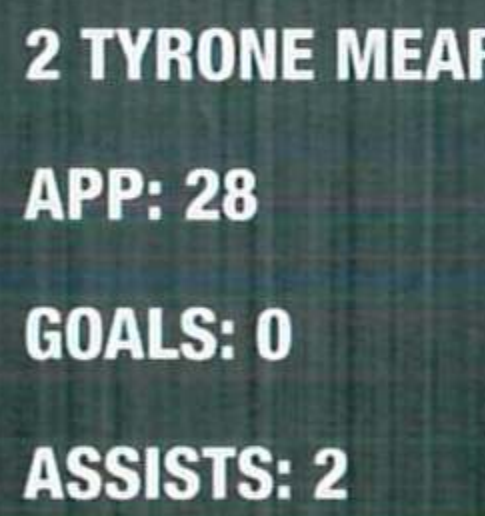

Jay Spearing | Midfielder

Liverpool midfielder Jay Spearing signed a season-long loan deal at Bolton on deadline day last year. The 23-year-old joined Liverpool as a youngster and spent time out on loan with Leicester City in 2009, bagging his first senior goal for the Foxes. Spearing is a hardworking and tenacious midfielder, whose rise to prominence at Anfield could only have been helped by developing alongside Steven Gerrard.

Chris Eagles | Winger

Exciting winger Chris Eagles is another one of Bolton's recruits who hails from a first-class club, having been nurtured by Manchester United as a youngster. Now 27 years old, Eagles proves to be one of the Championship's most dangerous attacking players, having also featured for the likes of Sheffield Wednesday on loan and more recently Burnley, playing under Owen Coyle as the Clarets soared into the top flight. Having followed Owen Coyle to the Reebok Stadium, Eagles topped the club's assist charts in his debut season and continues to impress in England's second tier.

Marvin Sordell | Striker

Marvin Sordell will be aiming for his third goal on Oakwell soil having scored on his previous two visits with England Under 21s and Watford. His exploits for the Hornets and Young Lions prompted Bolton to fork out £3million for his services on deadline day of last year. Sordell turned 22 last month, and featured three times for Great Britain in the Olympics last summer. The striker's deal at the Reebok lasts until the summer of 2015

David Ngog | Striker

French striker David Ngog joined Bolton on deadline day in August 2011, penning a three-year deal at the Reebok Stadium. The 23-year-old first taste of English football came with Premier League giants Liverpool, having joined the Anfield side from Paris Saint-Germain. A tall and quick striker, Ngog was born in suburban Paris, and represented France at youth level up to Under 21s. Upon his departure from Merseyside to Bolton, Ngog had struck 19 goals in all competitions.

Kevin Davies | Striker

Striker Kevin Davies has been an incredible servant Bolton, and is heading towards his ten-year anniversary of joining the Whites. A powerful and experienced striker, Davies started his career as a professional with Chesterfield and his impressive form for the Spireites attracted the attention of Southampton in May 1997. Just over a year later Blackburn forked out more than £7million for the forward but his stay at Ewood Park was short-lived as he re-joined Southampton in August of 1999. In the summer of 2003, after his release from the Saints he teamed up with Bolton and played an integral role for the Trotters as they cemented themselves as a top-half Premier League side. Davies made his 400th appearance for Wanderers last month as he lined up against Watford.

Craig Davies | Striker

Craig Davies will be no stranger to the Oakwell crowd tonight having made 64 appearances for the Reds and scoring 20 goals. Prior to signing for Barnsley Craig Davies had a successful season at Chesterfield netting 25 goals in just 45 appearances. As a youth player Davies spent time at Manchester City before moving to Oxford United in 2004 where he made his senior debut. Whilst at Barnsley Davies earned a recall to the Welsh International squad after over four years and played in the World Cup qualifier against Scotland. Craig Davies made his debut for the Reebok in January, becoming Dougie Freedman's first permanent signing on a two and a half year deal. He netted his first goal for the Trotters against Burnley and followed that up a week later with another against Nottingham Forest.

He was stationed at RAF Kirkham during wartime service and turned professional at Burnden Park in April 1943. Leading marksman in 1948-49, scoring four times in a 4-2 win at Aston Villa, he gained his solitary cap against England in April 1950 and netted 118 goals in 325 First Division outings for Wanderers prior to joining Stockport County in September 1955. He became their player-boss, then managed Nelson and was a sales rep. Retaining links with Bolton, he helped out on the commercial side at Wanderers until his death in May 1988.

NAT LOFTHOUSE

England international centre-forward Nat Lofthouse holds Bolton Wanderers' all-time goalscoring record. Signing professional at Burnden Park in August 1942, he starred in wartime football and earned the tag 'Lion of Vienna' when he scored twice for England against Austria in May 1952. He

Phil Brown

He was later Bolton's coach, then manager, chief scout and club president until his death in January 2011.

WARWICK RIMMER

Long-serving defender Warwick Rimmer skippered Bolton Wanderers' 1972-73 Third Division title triumph. A nephew of former England international Ellis Rimmer, he turned professional at Burnden Park in March 1958 and made his first-team debut in Bolton's first-ever League Cup tie at Hull City in October 1960. He was ever-present four times including their 1964-65 promotion near-miss, netting 17 goals in 469 League games for Wanderers before joining Crewe Alexandra in March 1975, becoming their player-manager. After working in Bolton's commercial department, he has been Tranmere Rovers' youth development officer for over 20 years.

ROY GREAVES

Long-serving midfielder Roy Greaves captained Bolton Wanderers' 1977-78 Second Division title triumph. Born locally, he turned professional at Burnden Park in January 1965 and scored twice on his home debut in Bolton's 3-2 defeat by Southampton nine months later. He was twice leading marksman, then ever-present in Wanderers' 1972-73 Third Division title campaign and League Cup run. Also starring as Bolton were Central defender Mark Came skippered Bolton Wanderers' 1987-88 promotion success. He played for Winsford United prior to joining Bolton in April 1984 and featured in the 1986 Freight Rover Trophy final. Helping Wanderers qualify for the Third Division play-offs in two consecutive seasons, he starred in the 1991-92 FA Cup run and netted seven goals in 195 League games before moving to Chester City in December 1992. He starred as they won promotion in 1993-94 and joined Exeter City in July 1994. Returning to Winsford in July 1996, he later became steward at the Conservative Club. His son Shaun briefly played for Macclesfield Town.

MARK CAME

PHIL BROWN

Versatile right-back Phil Brown skippered Bolton Wanderers' 1992-93 promotion success and FA Cup run. Signing professional for Hartlepool in July 1978, he joined Halifax Town in July 1985 and was ever-present in 1986-87. He moved to Bolton in June 1988 and skippered their 1989 Sherpa Van Trophy final triumph, also appearing at Wembley in the 1990-91 Third Division play-off final. Scoring 14 goals in 256 League outings for Wanderers prior to joining Blackpool in July 1994, he helped them qualify for the Second Division play-offs in 1995-96. He rejoined Bolton as coach and has since been manager of Derby County, Hull City and Preston.

ALAN STUBBS

England B international central defender Alan Stubbs captained Bolton Wanderers in the 1995 League Cup final. Signing professional for Bolton in July 1990, he made his League debut in their 1-0 defeat at home to Bradford City two months later and helped Wanderers to reach the Third Division play-off final in 1990-91. He was an important figure in Bolton's 1992-93 and 1994-95 promotion successes and netted nine goals in 202 League games before sold to Celtic for £3,500,000 in May 1996.

GUDNI BERGSSON

Iceland international defender Gudni Bergsson skippered Bolton Wanderers' 1996-97 First Division title triumph. A former law student at Reykjavik University, he helped Valur win the Icelandic League title in 1987 and Icelandic Cup in 1988 before joining Tottenham Hotspur in December 1988. He moved to Bolton for £115,000 in March 1995. Featuring in that season's League Cup final and First Division play-off final success, he also helped Wanderers win promotion via the First Division play-offs in 2000-01, netting 23 goals in 270 League games for Bolton until hanging up his boots in May 2003. He has become a lawyer back in Iceland.

Another Vital

Chris O'Grady has told the Reds how he turned down several other loan offers just to team up with Barnsley in the January transfer window.

The 27-year-old has worked with Reds Manager David Flitcroft before at Rochdale, a time which saw the Spotland side get the very best out of the striker.

"As soon as Barnsley came about late in the window, it was the only option I wanted to entertain because of David Flitcroft," O'Grady told The Reds.

"There were a couple of options, in League one and one in the Championship, but I wanted to come to Barnsley."

Joining on loan from not only the Reds' league rivals, but regional rivals in Sheffield Wednesday,

CO'G

O'Grady only wanted to work with David Flitcroft.

"He's able to get the best out of players," said O'Grady of Flitcroft. "He's the reason why I'm at this level. He and Keith (Hill) gave me a chance in League Two when I was at a career low point. They gave me a chance to showcase myself and I did well and then I moved onto Sheffield Wednesday."

The forward, who is representing his eleventh club in Barnsley, insists it's a nice feeling knowing a Manager with a specific recruitment policy is keen on bringing you into the club.

O'Grady continued, "It's nice because that should go across the board, working hard – it can earn you moves to big clubs. Some clubs have the policy in wanting players with just ability rather than working hard. So it's refreshing that the gaffer looks at players who work hard and thankfully I've done that when I was with him before, so he's identified that and brought me here.

"I thought that chapter of enjoying my career had closed. It came to an end when I moved on but it's really nice to recreate that again.

"I've been at plenty of clubs in my career so far. Everything has to be right across the board, there's nothing behind the scenes you can fault here. The players here work hard and there's no reason why the best can't be gotten out of the lads."

Reds boss David Flitcroft is quoted as branding O'Grady as 'Chris Dagnall in the Hulk's body' – something the striker was happy to hear!

"I hadn't heard that but I'll take it," smiled O'Grady. "Everyone's got their strengths, that's what you do: identify them and work on them to make them stronger."

"Before I got with the gaffer at Rochdale, I was just a big person and that was my only strength but he's managed to get different aspects out of me like working hard and bringing others into play. It's just that message that if you work harder than the players you're up against and win battles, then you're going to come out on top."

"I want to be consistent and reliable – that's what I've always wanted to be. You might have the odd spell in games where you do well like players do but I've always wanted to be a consistent player and the fans know what they're going to get with me. I'll work hard and be reliable, and I'll keep the ball up the top of the pitch where everyone wants it to be."

As well as being likened to Chris Dagnall, O'Grady is aware of what his strike partner is capable of, having played alongside 'Daggers' at Spotland.

"It's been a couple of years since we played together," he said. "It was the most enjoyable partnership of my career so far. I've been looking out for him and hoping he'd do well since we both went our separate ways."

"He's had spells where he has done well and then had a few down points. It's taken some hard work but now Flicks is getting the best out of him."

The former Leicester trainee still has another year on his contract at Sheffield Wednesday after this summer, but wouldn't rule out a permanent move to Oakwell should the situation arise.

"Whatever comes about, you have to weigh up the option," he said. "There's no reason why anyone wouldn't want to sign here after being here. Whether that becomes an option, it's something we'll have to wait and see. But being here the past month and seeing everything that goes in on and off the pitch, who wouldn't want to?"

"I'm in a good place. It's all about knowing when you're in a bad place and thinking what you can do about it. So you can appreciate where you're at, based on where you've come from."

I've been at plenty of clubs in my career so far. Everything has to be right across the board, there's nothing behind the scenes you can fault here.

Barnsley's second longest serving player in the current squad, Stephen Foster, recently surpassed his 500th career appearance with the Reds.

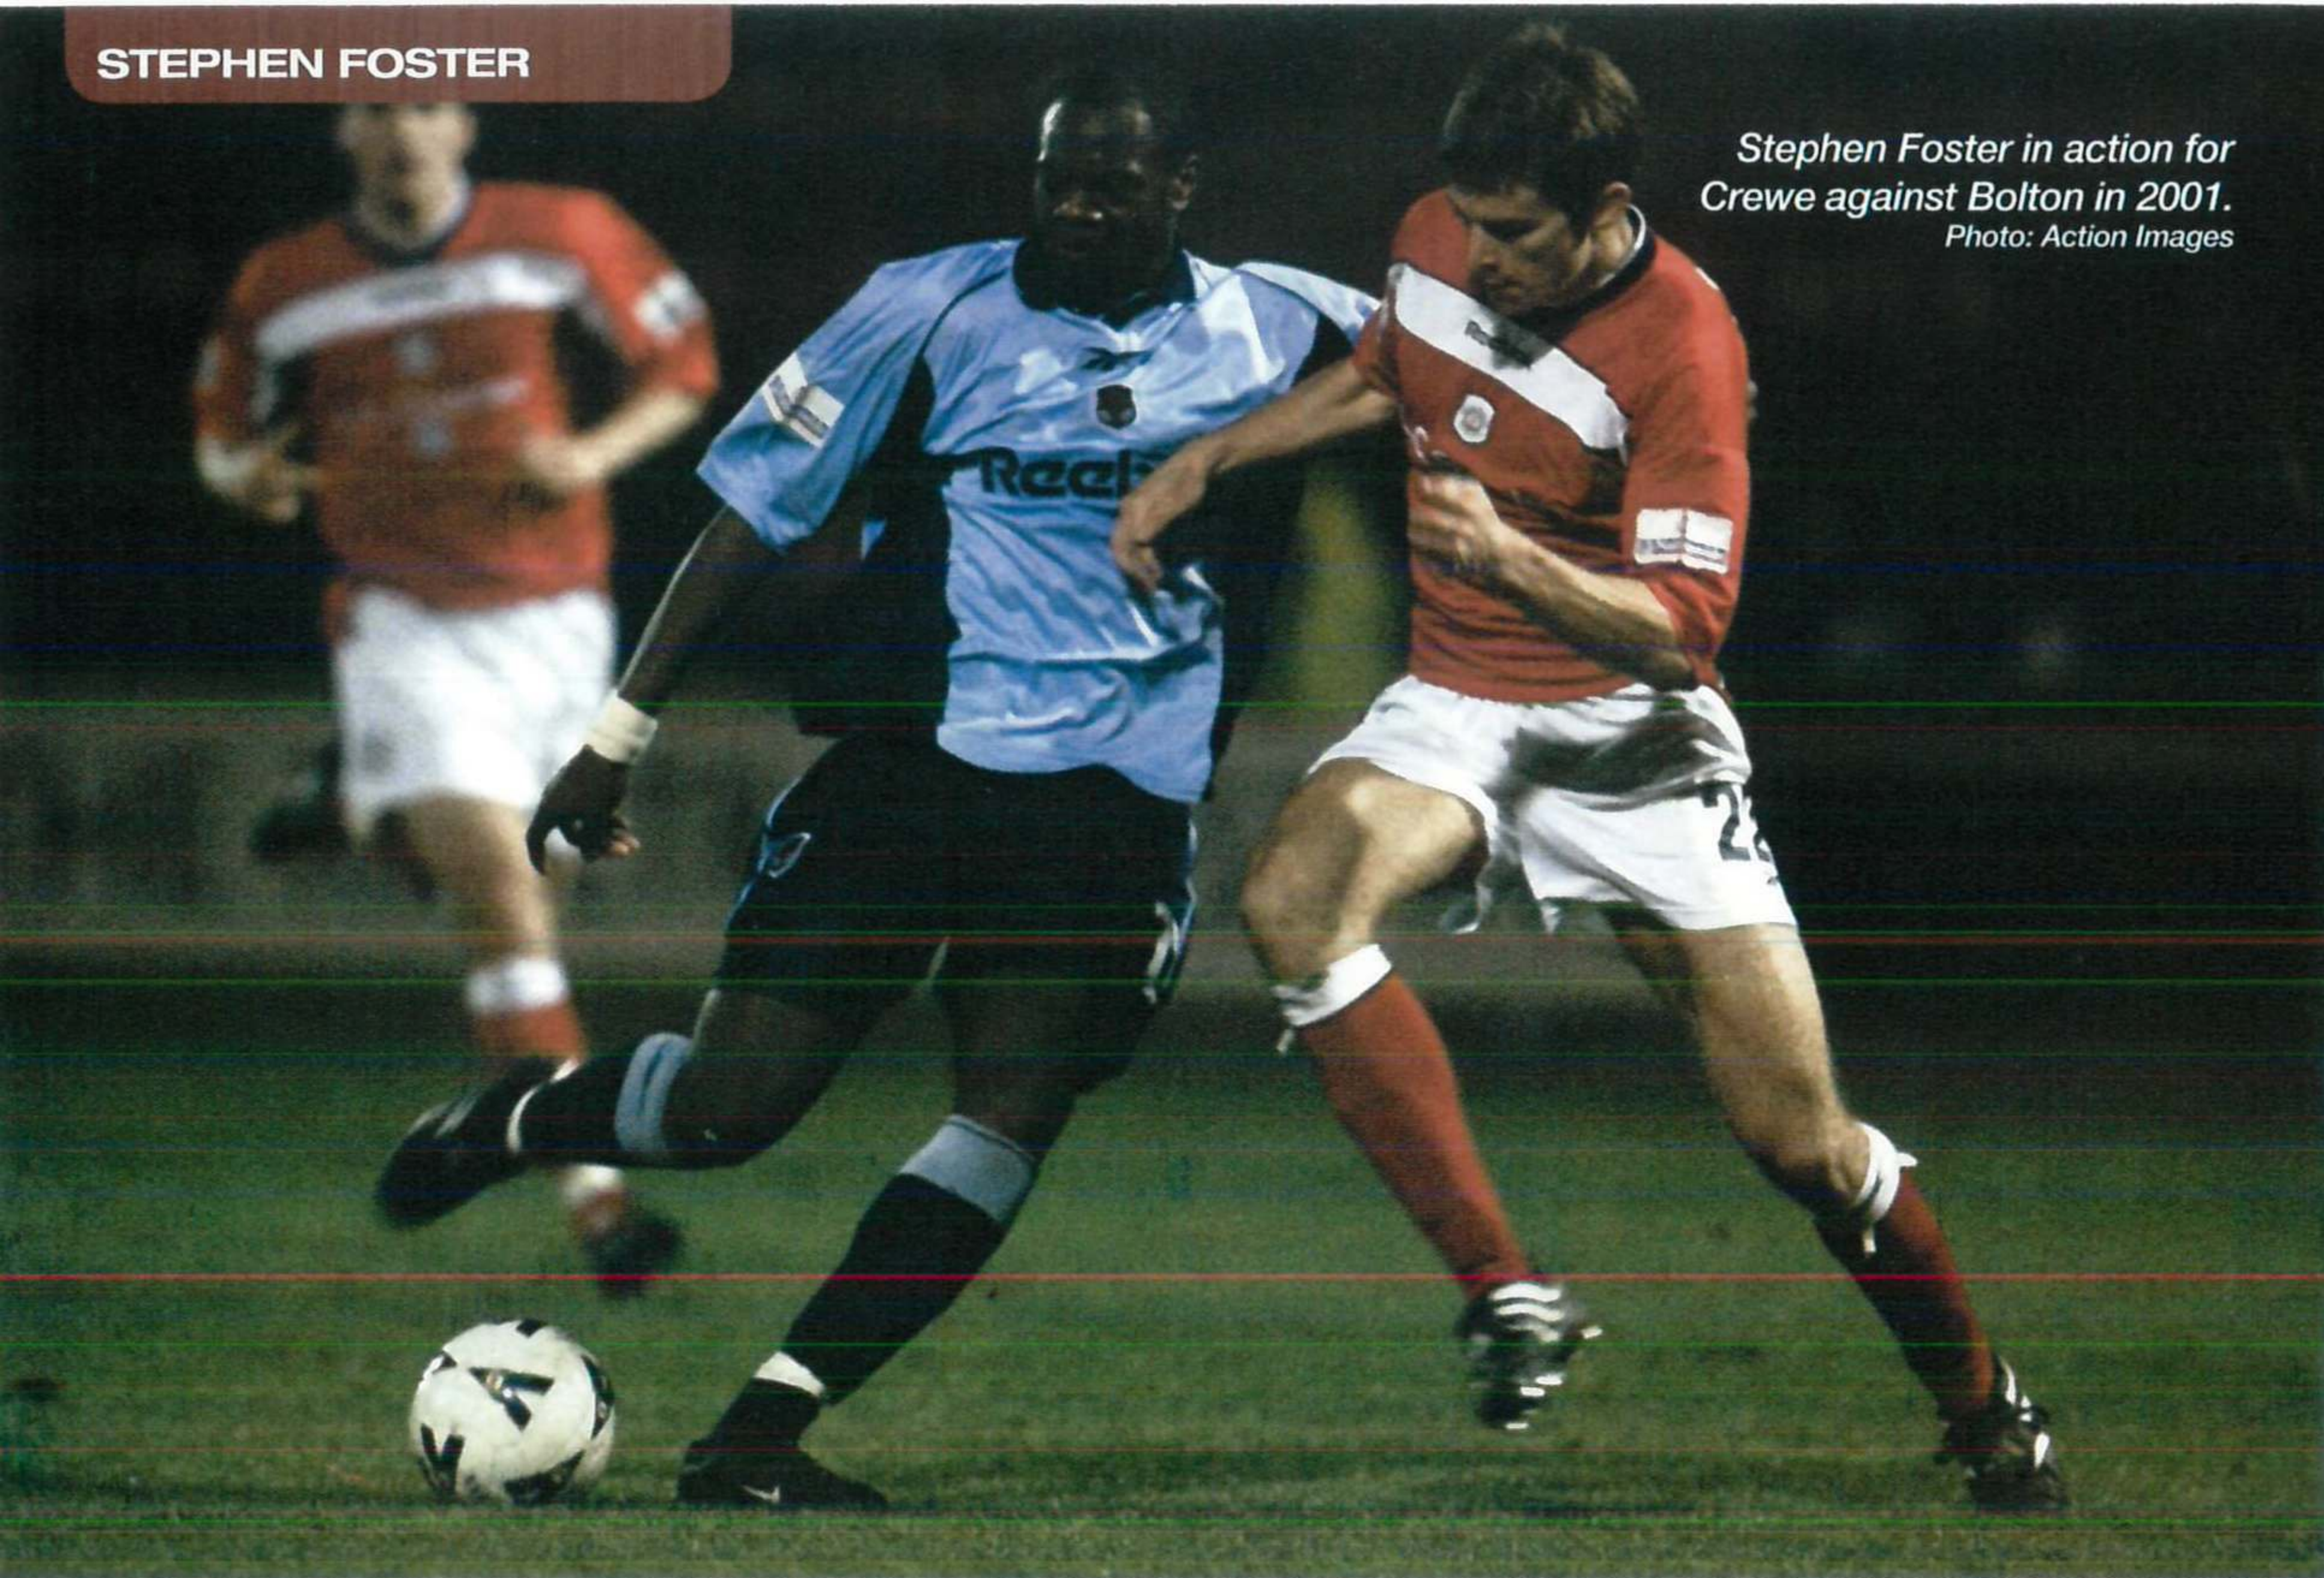

'Foz' has revealed to the Reds how he was thankful to Barnsley for handing him a 'career lifeline' back in 2007 following a frustrating spell at Burnley.

"It's nice," said Foster, speaking exclusively to The Reds. "It's a bit of a milestone, I suppose. So to get to 500 games is an achievement I'm proud of."

"I've been lucky. As a kid you just want to put the shirt on and play in the first team, so to have 500 of them like I said is a proud moment for me, really. I've been unlucky and lucky with injuries, I've had my share, but luckily I've managed to get through them and the last few seasons I've been fairly fortunate to have a good run."

The central-defender started his career at the 'conveyor belt' club that is Crewe, with Foster surpassing 200 appearances for the Alex before switching allegiances to Burnley.

"They say you shouldn't have any regrets but I was probably at Crewe for too long," revealed Foster. "Don't get me wrong, I owe everything to Crewe, really.

They gave me my first chance in football, developing me since I was 12 when I first went there. But it's a unique club, different from any other really, their aim was to develop footballers and to sell them on to survive – which is still what they're about. There was no real pressure going into games, even though all but one of my seasons there was in the Championship.

"I got a little bit comfy I suppose. I maybe stayed there too long without changing clubs and testing myself in that way. That's probably my only regret; that I didn't move out of my comfort zone."

Foster progressed through Crewe's ranks with some fine players, including Rob Hulse and Dean Ashton, before departing for Burnley in 2006, but found times difficult at Turf Moor.

"I went to Burnley and things didn't work out for me there," he continued. "Although it was a very valuable experience for me there, I was at a difficult stage in my career when I was about to leave Burnley."

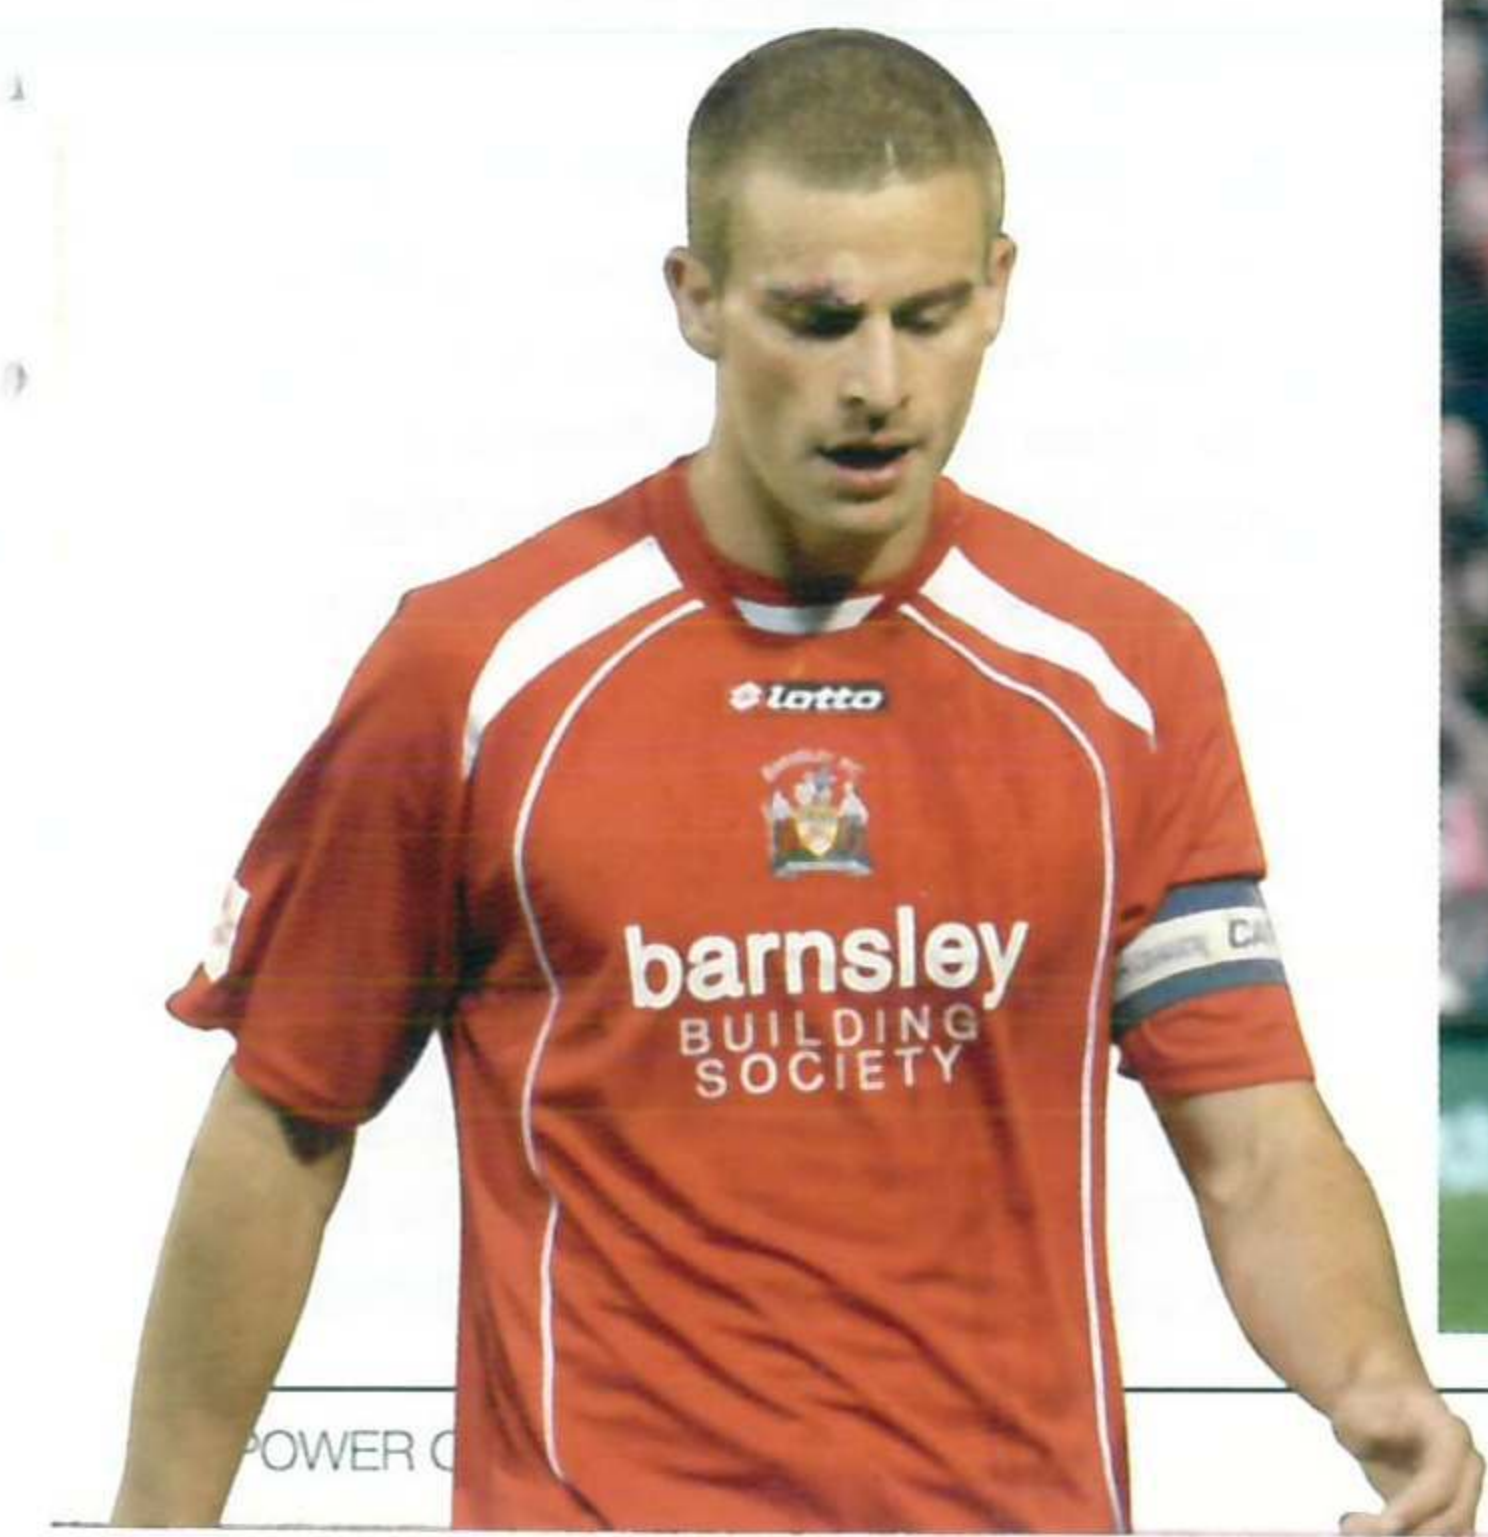

Below: Stephen Foster has had his fair share of head injuries, but always manages to battle through them.

"Barnsley gave me real hope in my career, I was looking down at that stage and wondering where the next step was going to be. Barnsley gave me that lifeline to play first team football."

"I'll obviously never forget my first season with Barnsley. I feel I've been a fairly consistent performer over my time here."

"I'll never forget my first season here for several reasons but they've all been enjoyable in their own way."

One of Foster's fond memories is the F.A. Cup run of 2008, where the defender helped himself to two goals in the third and fifth round – the latter against Liverpool at Anfield – to provide him with some precious memories.

"There're a couple of photos in my study; that (goal) being one of them," he smiled. "That'll live with me forever, the feeling of scoring at Anfield at the Kop end and having the run that we did.

"I remember my debut like it was yesterday. Every time I pull on the shirt it creates memories, I'll take them with me long after I've finished playing.

"I remember pros
when I first got into the team at Crewe saying to soak it in, and enjoy every moment and that it goes so quick. I didn't believe them. And it has gone quick.
You take things for granted.
I was lucky enough to get into the first team fairly early.
Once you play a few games
you start taking them a bit lightly.

"Now I think about it,
you still get the buzz

when you walk out onto the pitch
– that's irreplaceable. There's no other feeling like the adrenaline flowing through your body. You do get nervous before games because you want to do well.
It's a feeling that has carried on throughout my career."

At the age of 32, it would be careless to suggest Foster isn't thinking about the long-term future when he eventually hangs up his boots.

"It's only natural to think about the future, with getting older.

"I've got to look forward, I can't say how long my career's going to last. Whoever wants to employ me, then great. But there's a stage that will come after that. I have a family to I have to make sure they're secure.

"You get the likes of Giggs and Scholes who have reached the age they're at now, if the legs will carry me that far then great. I'll be doing everything possible to keep me playing as long as possible.

"I've always looked after myself. Even through the summer. I can't leave the exercise for long, I always drag myself into the gym, that's part of who I am. So I've always been in decent condition. It's just that you feel you're getting older you work even harder. In the summer time when I'm off I'm coming back as fit as I ever have been."

Despite having pulled on the shirt professionally for over 14 years and admitting the game can be taken for granted, Foster still feels the buzz of appreciation from the supporters on matchday.

"You pull on the shirt and you want to do well for yourself, your family, your team mates and the club and fans. It's a great feeling when you hear the fans appreciate it. I will keep giving my all for everyone at this club, there's no question about that."

More than just matchday commentary...

We are in what people call the 'business end' of the season and with Barnsley Player there's no better way to follow all the drama of the next four months. Let's have a quick look at what Player has to offer...

Pitchside Team Talk

Whether at home or on the road fans can get a flavour of the atmosphere of the ground just minutes before kick-off. We can't stream anything live, but this is as close as it gets.

The logistics of getting the filming, editing, adding pre-match stats, rendering, uploading and making live on the website in such a narrow window of opportunity makes for an interesting hour before kick-off.

So whether you are tuning in for the live audio commentary on a matchday or in the stadium waiting for the whistle you can watch the pitchside team talk on your computer, tablet or smartphone.

Match Replays

We endeavour to get the full match replays on the website within 36 hours of the match being played. The video provides teamsheets, action replays and commentary.

Interviews

After a match everyone wants to know what the manager and players have to say and that is why we make sure there are as many interviews as possible to help give a real flavour of the match and how they feel about the result and the performance.

These are complemented by our pre-match interviews and behind the scenes features that help build a real picture of daily life at Oakwell.

Programme Sponsor: Clark Hodges

On 3rd March 2013 Colin Hodges will celebrate his 70th Birthday.

Born and bred on the Isle of Wight his job brought the family north in 1985 and following several trips to 'local' Yorkshire clubs he settled on Barnsley as the team of choice. Since then both him and his son have been avid supporters of the 'tarn' and have true RED blood running through their veins.

A player of reasonable standard in his younger days saw him transferred from East Cowes Vics to Newport (IW) FC and later selected to play against an 'all stars' team including Sean Connery & Des O'Connor. A strong left back Colin was warned before the game to 'take it easy' on the very high profile Tommy Steele and to 'let him win' – NOT!

Colin could regale you of stories playing against many big names in football and having them 'in his pocket' as a defender – a very keen football fan with a deep knowledge of the game he personifies the meaning of a true fan.

The regular homage, home or away, now involves him, his son and his grandson.

Happy Birthday Dad, enjoy your day x

Photographs by Action Images

Former South African international Eric Tinkler enjoyed some special times at Oakwell. The combative midfielder played his part in the Reds' only ever top-flight campaign, as well as featuring in Barnsley's first ever Wembley appearance.

Tinkler went on to make 118 appearances for the Reds from central midfield after joining from Italian outfit Cagliari ahead of Barnsley's Premier League campaign of 1997-98.

"They are happy memories, my time at Barnsley," Eric told The Reds. "Obviously the season in the Premier League gives me great memories. I had the ambition of playing in the Premier League but we were relegated.

"In pre-season, we had a lot of support, even at training sessions. The fans were eager to see new signings and were very helpful and thoughtful wishing us good luck and success at the club.

"It gave me goosebumps when I ran onto the field to hear them singing my name. But that's why I grew up wanting to play football, to have moments like that.

"There are a couple of good memories, including the run in the FA Cup. Winning at Liverpool is a great memory for me, and something that we needed at that stage of the season. It gave us a little bit of impetus but maybe it was a little bit too late. But it's certainly one of my best memories at Liverpool, drinking in the pub the night before the game but we pulled off a fantastic result the following day.

"My experience at Barnsley, a club that was used to playing in the lower divisions, the euphoria around the club was far greater than the other clubs I'd played for in Cagliari in Serie A and in the Portuguese top flight.

"Barnsley was a unique experience. It was an opportunity to try and break into the Premier League which was becoming what it is today, which is one of the best leagues in the world."

Another match that stands out for Tinkler during his time at Oakwell was the phenomenal performance against Huddersfield in front of the Sky cameras in November 1998, where John Hendrie's side ran out 7-1 winners.

"Funnily enough, I still have a bit of footage of that game," continued Eric. "Every now and then I get brave enough to show the players that I'm coaching the footage of the game! I didn't keep many games that I recorded which is a shame.

"But what a fantastic performance on a great night. I've been involved in some great performances of teams I've played in before. In Portugal we the language which is a problem. But they struggled to adapt to the English style of football. In England it was played at a far quicker pace, based on counter-attacking which was something they didn't experience in their own country. They were perhaps used to more tactical and slower matches, and also the English climate!

"But I came from sunny South Africa, then played in Portugal, and then I was based in Sardinia, for me it was a similar scenario, I actually struggled with the English weather! Not so much the cold, but the dark clouds in the morning!"

Despite their November hammering of Huddersfield, the Reds failed to bounce back to the Premier League, but the following season they came a step closer with their appearance at Wembley.

"It was a fantastic season," recalled Tinkler. "It should have been better. One match I remember very clearly, it was raining extremely heavily and the referee asked whether we wanted to play and wait for the field to dry a little bit, or cancel it and come back. I felt that was a bad decision, I felt we should have played that day because we were doing extremely well. I think the game getting cancelled affected us, we ended up losing that game."

"Also against Port Vale the referee gave a penalty against us, it was Chris Morgan who accidentally handballed it and we dropped two points there. Those five points would have guaranteed us automatic promotion."

"Unfortunately we ended up meeting our menace, because Ipswich were the only team in the league that beat us home and away that season. We had finished third and they finished sixth, but that's the way of it."

"We had a fantastic squad that season. I don't think we deserved the outcome we ended up getting at the end of it. We started off a little bit slowly. We grew from strength to strength, but a couple of things I feel cost us automatic promotion."

There was no doubting Eric Tinkler's commitment.

Now coaching one of the biggest clubs in South Africa, Orlando Pirates, Eric has another life ambition to return to Europe and ply his coaching trade.

"Originally, I came back to the old club where I started my career, Wits University, they gave me my first opportunity. I was in Portugal then I got a call from the club Chief Exec, they had just been relegated and they asked me if I would help them get re-promoted. I had started my coaching badges in 98 whilst at Barnsley, I completed my A-Licence in 2005. We won the second division, and I played one more season in the top flight whilst being the assistant manager. Then I hung up my boots and continued as a coach. I became head of development and started the academy at the club."

"Obviously, I'd love to be able to come back into Europe. It's one of my ambitions. Specifically England would be great, but it's proving to be difficult. I've been applying for my pro licence for four years to only be met with failure, they say they give first choice to the coaches in England, so that's very difficult."

played Benfica and beat them 5-3 and Benfica are like the equivalent of Manchester United in Portugal. We also beat AC Milan away from home with Cagliari. I was also lucky enough to represent South Africa in the African Nations Cup which we won. I've had a quite a few, but one of the best memories for me is the win against Liverpool."

Tinkler's impact on the team was far greater than that made by other foreign players – who were reportedly on a lot more money than the English players – and Eric puts their lack of an impression down to failing to get to grips with the language.

"I think it was difficult for some of the other foreign players like Ales (Krizan) and Georgi (Hristov). First and foremost they didn't dominate

Wolves

Dagnall 49, Mellis 73

Sigurdarson 7

The Reds overturned a Wolves lead to win 2-1 thanks to goals from Chris Dagnall and Jacob Mellis. They showed guts, character, grit and creativity to defeat a team that, on paper, should be sat near the top of the table

Wolves got off to the better start and on seven minutes Wolves found the lead, Bjorn Sigurdarson latched onto a neat through-ball before rounding Steele and tucking into the empty net. It had been coming, with the Reds hardly having a kick of the ball, and Wolves typically hungry for their first win under Dean Saunders.

From one end to the other, both sides thought they had scored within the space of 20 seconds. Jamie O'Hara curled in a great 25-yard strike that hit the bar and bounced to safety, then Chris Dagnall fired inches wide from a right angle after a splendid threaded ball down the right from O'Brien on 17 minutes.

On 25 minutes Jim O'Brien's lethal cross was begging to be turned home as it teased Ikeme from the right but no Red shirt was there to finish it off.

The game was stretching from end to end and Perkins had to block an edge-of-the-box strike as Ikeme kept one out at the other end from O'Grady on the spin.

Harewood should have pulled the Reds level on 35 minutes but mistimed his jump as he leapt to nod down O'Brien's terrific cross eight yards out.

Sako tested Steele at his near post on 38 after teasing Wiseman down the Barnsley right. As the first-half clock ticked down when Harewood turned the Wolves defenders inside out and fired across the face of goal, Oakwell held its breath – unbelievably no player was there to turn it home.

Just four minutes into the second half and the Reds hauled themselves level through that man Chris Dagnall who just can't stop scoring. Rory Delap whipped in a tasty cross and Dagnall battled to get the side of his head to the ball and squeeze it home from six yards.

The Reds made a double change on 64 minutes with Jim O'Brien and Marlon Harewood making way for Jason Scotland and Jacob Mellis. Wolves made one change with Davis replacing O'Hara.

If Ebanks-Blake's shot was as good as his turn on Foster it would have seen Wolves take the lead on 68 minutes but he bent his shot well wide of Steele's right-hand post after cutting in from the right. Moments later a good advantage by the referee allowed Scotland a run at goal and his shot from the edge of the box had Ikeme scrambling to the left but his right-foot effort drifted just wide of the post.

Steele made an outrageous save on 70 minutes to keep the score level after Sigurdarson took down a cross in expert fashion before finding himself one-on-one with Steele 10 yards out.

It was now Jacob Mellis' turn to step up to the plate and he duly delivered from 15 yards. Dagnall danced his way into the box down the left and Scotland just couldn't get a shot away but O'Grady teed up Mellis who could get his shot away and tucked into Ikeme's left-hand corner on 73 minutes.

Following a tremendous display of strength and unselfishness, Chris O'Grady was replaced by Jimmy McNulty as the Reds looked to maintain their lead.

Four minutes of added time as the Reds closed the game out with the Ponty End in full voice.

The final whistle came after a goal-mouth scramble in the Barnsley box, their defending was resolute and the final whistle was greeted with a roar of sheer relief and, above all, belief.

O'Grady 57, Cywka 81, Scotland 90+1

The Reds started in a bright fashion, forcing an early free-kick down the left-hand channel but failed to cause any real danger.

On five minutes Tom Heaton could only fumble Ryan Tunnicliffe's 25-yard drive but gathered at the second attempt, and as the game swung to the other end City feel they should have had a penalty when Foster challenged Kelly in the box – the referee Scott Mathieson didn't flinch.

Delap came to his side's rescue when it appeared Stead had set

Pearson up in the area, the Stoke loanee appeared from nowhere to pinch the ball from his toes.

Marlon Harewood took matters into his own hands on 12 minutes, charging at the Robins' defence before threading a ball down the right for Delap who struck a vicious effort at goal but Heaton did well to parry wide for a corner.

On 16 minutes Marvin Elliott clambered all over Stephen Foster to meet Anderson's corner, as the Reds waited for the free-kick, Jon Stead glanced in from a yard to score.

Tom Heaton made a third super save on 21 minutes, denying Chris Dagnall yet another goal when he powered Kennedy's free-kick at goal from eight yards, but the former Cardiff man tipped over the bar with a strong hand.

Chris Dagnall then had Heaton scrambling to his left with a rocket from 30 yards that appeared to be creeping into the top corner but drifted wide.

On 35 minutes City skipper Fontaine prodded home from a tight angle as he attacked Moloney's deep cross.

Three minutes after the Robins doubled their lead, Stephen Foster was replaced by Chris O'Grady in a tactical change.

Jon Stead grabbed his second and City's third via a deflection on 51 minutes. Davies swung a free-kick in onto the head of Fontaine which fell to Stead 10 yards out and he struck a tame shot down the middle of goal but it deflected past Steele for 3-0.

Former Tyke Nyatanga scored Bristol's fourth with a close-range header after Barnsley failed to clear their lines on 55 minutes.

Ryan Tunnicliffe drove his way forward onto Harewood's through-ball two minutes later and did salvage some pride although it was in confusing circumstances. O'Grady pounced onto Tunnicliffe's saved strike, but both City's clearances were after the ball had fully gone over the line. Just to make sure Tunnicliffe popped up again to smash home.

Barnsley now finally had some wind in their sails and Scotland was causing problems in the box, helping O'Grady and Cranie with efforts from inside the area.

Within a minute of coming on, Tomasz Cywka forced Heaton into a save after neat play between Scotland and O'Grady.

David Perkins almost gifted Davies a goal but the midfielder had Luke Steele to thank as he denied him one-on-one but from the resulting corner the Robins made it 5-1 when Davies was free in the area to nod home.

It was 5-2 on 81 minutes with Tomasz Cywka hammering a sweet strike into the bottom corner from the edge of the box as Rory Delap's long throw eventually fell into his path.

Tomasz Cywka again charged forward before firing in from 25 yards and had Heaton diving away to his right but the drive was wide of the right-hand post on 83.

Again Tom Heaton was in action as he denied Chris O'Grady's powerful 20-yard strike. Despite having scored five goals, City's 'keeper was by far the busier of the two on the day.

Barnsley never gave up and their diehard supporters were in full voice, they were rewarded on 91 minutes when Jason Scotland turned and powered in a sweet shot for 5-3 from just outside the area.

Perkins and Scotland went close again as the five minutes of stoppage time ticked down but full time whistle came too soon.
